Chesapeake Bay Governor's School-Warsaw Campus Places Third at 14th Annual Regional Ocean Science Bowl

At the 14th Annual Blue Crab Bowl, held on February 26, the team from Chesapeake Bay Governor's School-Warsaw Campus took 3rd Place honors at the day-long marine science quiz tournament held at Virginia Institute of Marine Science (Gloucester Point). Coached by science teacher James Beam, team members include: Team Captain Emma Hollowell, a senior at Lancaster High School; LeighAnna Morris, senior at Rappahannock High; Anne Self, a senior at Washington & Lee High; Paige Trivett, senior at Colonial Beach High; and Hannah Wallace, a senior from Washington & Lee High.

This year's first place team, Bishop Sullivan Catholic High School (Virginia Beach), will compete in the National Ocean Science Bowl Competition, April 29 to May 1 in Galveston, Texas. Other top four winners in this year's competition included Chesapeake Bay Governor's School (Glenns) in second and Broadwater Academy (Exmore) in fourth.

Sixteen teams were randomly chosen to compete in this year's tournament, the 14th Annual Blue Crab Bowl. Students who participate prepare through class work and extracurricular study with their science teachers, who serve as coaches. Students explore marine science topics, practice thinking on their feet, and develop team and analytical skills for the competitive quiz bowl setting.

The Blue Crab Bowl is Virginia's regional competition of the National Ocean Sciences Bowl and one of the 15 founding competitions. The Blue Crab Bowl aims to encourage students' understanding and awareness of ocean sciences, including oceanography, geology, biology, maritime history, and marine policy. The Blue Crab Bowl is the result cooperative effort between the Virginia Institute of Marine Sciences and Department of Ocean, Earth, and Atmospheric Sciences (Old Dominion University). More than 80 faculty, graduate students, research and support staff volunteer their time to officiate and manage the event.
